

Health & End of Life Care

a Multi-Faith Forum

sponsored by

Northeast Health Wangaratta &
North East Multicultural Aged Care Connections

In Multicultural Australia, Health Professionals, Pastoral and Spiritual Carers and Volunteers need to have some knowledge of faith traditions other than their own. This program offers a taste of such knowledge. The program will focus on health and end of life care needs from the perspective of five specific faith communities:

Islamic with Sr Lina Ayoubi, Hospital and Prison Pastoral Care Coordinator at the Islamic Council of Victoria, an accomplished public speaker and until recently Board of Imams Executive Officer. She offers prison, hospital and asylum seeker chaplaincy.

Hindu with Rev. Albert Lange (Bhakta Dasa) a registered Vaisnava Hindu Minister of Religion with the International Society for Krishna Consciousness. He is the General Secretary of the Hindu Community Council of Victoria overseeing Hindu Care, Chaplaincy and Pastoral Care.

Sikh with Amarjit Singh migrated to Australia in 1995 from Singapore. He works as a Registered Nurse, with a background of 24 years in Emergency and Remote Area Nursing. He serves as a volunteer Sikh Chaplain within Corrections Victoria, and is engaged in many interfaith activities.

Jewish with Jo Silver, Project Manager at the Jewish Community Council of Victoria, Chair of the JCCV Pastoral Care Steering Committee, Manager for JCCV's Safeguarding Children Reference group. She is also secretary for the Jewish Christian Muslim Association.

Buddhist with Hōjun Futen Oshō a Buddhist monk of the Sōtō Zen tradition. He is coordinator of healthcare chaplaincy for the Buddhist Council of Victoria and volunteers his time at the Royal Melbourne Hospital, the Melbourne Assessment Prison and Port Philip Prison.
